Create an html page which contains following,

- i) The same alphabet table shown in the picture above.
- ii) An input bar, where a user can type any word and a submit button, as shown in picture above.
- iii) List of cricket related words on the left side of the picture.

Objective:

- i) When user types and submits any word.
  - Your html page should process the input and find the submitted word in the the table (i) and highlight the word, if it exists.
  - if the word dosen't exist, show a 3 second message stating the same.
  - Once user submits all the cricket related words shown in the pic given, show a popup message saying "Hurray!! Well played !!".
- ii) If a word in the list on the left side of the picture above is searched and highlighted, strikethrough that particular word.

Note: Words can be horizontal, vertical and diagonal. Can be in upwards, downwards, left to right and right to left direction.
The code should work if the alphabet table and 'Find the word list' is replaced with another fresh game, for example as shown below.
